Public Forum on Academic Freedom and Institutional Reform

In view of the recent independent panel report on the HK Institute of Education, there is a heightened concern on the status of academic freedom in Hong Kong. As a multi-sectoral professional alliance, the Professional Commons believes it is essential that these issues be widely debated among academics, professionals, government officials and the community at large.

- How to define academic freedom in the local context?
- What is the link between academic freedom and public interest?
- Is academic freedom under threat in Hong Kong?
- What are the institutional reforms necessary to enhance academic freedom?
